Portal 9/9 Completion and Renewal

We greet you Children of the Light,

As one cycle is ending, so is another beginning.

The cycles within cycles are unending, yet the cycle of limitation on planet Earth is seeing its end. For thousands of years your race has slept in the cloud of illusions, dreaming a dream that created the experience of isolation.

You perpetuated the illusion of being separate from your fellow human being, being separate from your natural Environment, and above all you believed to be separate from Source itself.

We would like to point out that this separation that you have experienced for such a long time, is merely an illusion of the senses, it is not real, for you can never be separated from All that IS.

There is nothing outside of existence itself, so by being here, right now, you can acknowledge the fact that you do exist. And the mere fact that you exist confirms that you are part of All that Is, thus you are connected to all things.

So, now, as the Illusion of separation fades away, and as you gently move into the higher dimension, you will find that you will not only see your relationships from a different perspective, but also you will start to develop a new relationship with yourself. Your local personality has developed through your lifetime, to function in this state of isolation, but now as things are opening up to you, you will find that you will feel the need to re-calibrate yourself, to be able to navigate this new reality.

You are now becoming more interconnected with all of the human family, for the illusion of separation is fading away, but you will observe that the same transformation is taking place inside of you, as well.

The veil between lifetimes and different aspects of yourself is becoming thinner, and more and more memories are slipping through into your current lifetime.

You are beginning to have vivid dreams of places and events that you have never seen before; experiences and knowledge from other lifetimes are coming into your current reality giving you a broader picture of how things work, and who you are as a race.

This subconscious knowledge of the past is coming into your current lifetime, so you can integrate all this knowledge in a conscious manner.

You come in blind when you are born, and it is your task to uncover who you are while you are here on Earth.

By realizing who you are, you are also uncovering your collective history. Each individual holds a puzzle piece of the greater picture, and when put together, it will uncover your hidden history, for how could you move forward in a new direction if you don't even remember who you are.

As the veil between lifetimes is becoming thinner, so is the barrier between worlds fading away. As you become more open to your Higher Self, your Vibration comes closer to match the vibration where we are.

You can observe, as you are remembering more of your hidden past and true identity on a collective level, the interaction with extraterrestrial civilizations is simultaneously becoming more acceptable. This is why we show ourselves more to you, because you are coming closer in vibration to us.

The old way of being that was based on separation and isolation is slowly fading away, making way for the new paradigm of interconnectedness, the state of being one with all things.

We greet you with the light of Light,
Ask for guidance, ask for assistance, and it shall be given,
A'ho.
