

Message from SIRIUS 11.01 2022

Love is the beginning and end of all things.

We greet you children of light. We bring you an important message at this pivotal moment in your Earth's history, where one era is ending and a new one is beginning.

The great transformation that you have been all working towards is taking place right now.

Know that all who are present on planet Earth, are going through their own transformation, for each individual who is here has come in to experience this great shift for the purpose of enhancing their own soul's evolution.

Everyone is utilizing this precious time in their own unique way, doing what they can with the energies at their disposal.

Know that each and everyone of you is going through their own birthing process, at times it may seem more uncomfortable than you would like, but this is all part of the process of you becoming lighter, allowing yourself to integrate more of your Higher Self in physical form.

The uncomfortable energies that are swirling in the collective are bringing up all of the lessons; all of the energies that still need clearing in order for all of you to move forward. The difficulties that you are experiencing are not there to cause you harm or distress, it is all part of the global initiation process, for all of you as a collective, are moving into the higher realms.

When one wishes to advance and move up in vibration, they must first be cleansed of all heaviness. You must first work through all of your fears and every belief system that is holding you in that lower vibrational state. The quickest way of doing this is by being presented with your fears. During the initiation process, all the shadows that have been hiding in your subconscious are brought forth to be seen, by you, giving you the opportunity to transform them.

You can not transform that which you are not aware of.

If your fears and shadows are always hiding, or you are hiding from them; you will never be able to overcome them, for in this state you don't even know what the energies are that you have to work with.

It takes great courage to face one's own fears, and even greater to come in and to assist an entire planet's population doing the same thing.

But how can we overcome this huge shadow that is surfacing right now, you ask?

By overcoming the shadows within yourself. You have been doing incredible inner work on yourselves and you have been preparing to face this challenge; the transmutation of the entire human collective.

It is not a simple process, and it also takes time, but be patient with yourself and others around you, for they are not as well prepared as you were.

You have done this work many times on other worlds, other timelines, you have been training to hold the light in the most difficult circumstances. Know that the light is being held by more and more beings that are incarnated on your world each and every day.

As more of you are consciously making a decision to tune out of the old limiting paradigm, the more your own little light star is being turned on, connecting with all others who are doing the same, and so you are strengthening each other, holding space, holding the light in the collective, allowing the children of Gaia to make the jump more easily into the New Earth paradigm.

All of you are waiting for a great shift to occur openly and visible for all to see, but look not outwards, for the true shift must come from within. You have all been conditioned since birth to look for guidance and approval from outside sources, and we say, this can be a limiting factor in your growth.

All guidance and all that is of The Highest Truth, can only come from within, everything else is but an illusion in your dense time space reality, only your inner star that burns in your heart can guide you through this process.

Rejoice children of light, for now it is much easier to reconnect with your inner self, your true self, for critical mass has been reached in the collective. Rejoice!

Enough individuals have consciously made a choice to reconnect with their true identity, making it possible for newly awakened ones to have a much smoother transformation.

As more of you are making this shift within, so will your physical reality transform as well, for it has no other choice but to reflect the changes that are occurring in your collective, ultimately manifesting the New Earth Reality. Please be patient with yourself and with the process, for bringing about great change on the physical plain is a lengthy process; matter is not as fluid as the energies of the higher realms.

We greet you with the light of the Eternal Sun,
Be at peace and find love, find joy in all that you do and create.
We leave you with that children of light,
Be well,
A'ho
