

Message from SIRIUS 02.02 2022

Reintegration of Self within self.

We greet you children of light. We bring you the light of Sirius, your spiritual sun. We have brought light to your day and age to illuminate your path leading into the next phase of your evolution. We have guided your race through many crucial periods in your history and now we come forth once again to share the eternal wisdom of The Father Mind.

The blue star shines on our world through each and everyone of you, for many of you can trace your lineage back to Sirius. Look back and see that turning point in your soul's journey, when you have witnessed the struggles of the human race, and out of pure unconditional love have decided to come in and offer your assistance to all in need.

You have shifted the course of history across the ages multiple times, making the impossible possible, deconstructing and then reconstructing systems of power and belief, in order to benefit the human race. You have come in to preserve and to bring forth the Original Intent; everything that exists, exists for the reason to serve and to assist all life in their growth and evolution.

When you are acting out of pure unconditional love, and with the singular intent to assist, you are choosing to embody this Original Intent; you are sharing this blueprint with all others.

By your selfless act of being here on Earth, you have shifted the balance of power, which so far has maintained a tight grip over all living things on Earth. They have sought to control and utterly dominate all expression of life, ultimately forcing all into a direction that would derail your natural evolution, leading to the complete installation of the AI timeline.

There are many timelines, and you, the awakened, were made aware of these possibilities. There were many prophecies written about this, and they were brought forth so you may reflect, then decide what kind of tomorrow you would actually want to manifest.

The choice has always been in your hands, and what you see now is the amalgamation of your collective decisions being brought into form.

Yes there is an individual and also a collective Karma and manifestation. To all appearances you have little impact on what happens in the collective, but still you are part of it, and thus you have the power to shift it with your state of being.

Your core vibration, which is transmitting 24/7, is giving off energies that are representative of who you are.

This vibration is responsible for attracting everything that is in alignment with you, and also at the same time, it is redirecting everything that is not in tune with you.

By consciously shifting your core vibration you are able to dial up and down your Earth experience.

But how does this work in real life, you ask?

In each moment you can choose what thoughts you have, what emotions you hold inside, and also what you hold up as truth. These are the things that determine what energies you emit into the cosmos.

What you put out is what you get back.

Of course there are circumstances that have an influence on your being, for you are all in a holographic reality which has its rules and regulations, and just as everything else in creation, this environment also has its rhythmic flow.

You can not dictate the ups and downs of this collective rhythm, but what you can do, is to decide what you want to do under the given circumstances. Be aware of yourself and sense how things are flowing inside of you and the collective; using each moment to your benefit.

There is time for action, then there is time for inaction; find a steady balance between movement and stillness in order to reach the desired outcomes in your life.

Be aware of your future, yet do not dwell on it, for it distracts you from that which is in front of you at this very moment, do not lose yourself in the dreams of time.

We greet you in the light of the Eternal Sun.

A'ho Blessings.
