

Message from SIRIUS 10.05 2022

Full Moon, Completing the Old Cycle ...

We greet you children of Light. We are here to shed light on the mysteries of your past, present and future of your time.

There are many alignments occurring in your system that are there to further intensify the shift in your world.

Your perspective on time has been changing a lot, many of you have sensed there isn't as much time as it used to be.

In a way this is true, also your perception of reality has dramatically shifted in recent years.

Just as you are raising our vibration, so is the flow of time speeding up, creating this uneasy transitional period, in which you are trying to navigate the new energies with an old mindset.

A warning to all children of Gaia; there will be no slowing down, meaning that you will no longer return to the old mundane way of doing things, but instead you will reach a new plateau in your evolution, and thus you will feel more at peace in each moment.

In order to fully navigate this intense time shift, one must learn to be more in the now. You must learn to stay centered and grounded as much as you can in order to stabilize this transitional period in your life.

When you ground and calm your Heart and Mind, you will find that things start to slow down for you, coming back to an even flow.

You may ask, then how should I get things done in my life?

Try to reach a balance between the old way of fulfilling your tasks with the new mindset of being more in the flow. Stay centered, and try to do what you have the ability to do at any given moment.

This is a transitional period that you are all going through, which allows you to test out the new way of life, yet at the same time whenever you feel the need, you can still explore the old well practiced behaviors, but as you are moving forward you will find that this way of life will become more and more difficult, for it is no longer supported by the realm that you exist in.

The only remedy for this is to stay centered, ground yourself in the now, for in each moment you have the opportunity to do one specific thing. You will find as you focus on your present moment and let go of the past, you will reach a state of equilibrium, for you are no longer dividing your attention.

The Ego mind is trying to assist you in navigating this time shift, but it becomes less and less capable of doing so, since where you are all going there is no place for it.

The Ego was a valuable construct which helped you in navigating the lower 3rd Dimensional reality, but since you are moving forward to the higher realms, you need a new operating system which is; your Higher Self.

Your Higher Self spans across timelines and dimensions, it brings together all your lifetimes, and from that sacred perspective you will be able to navigate your reality with ease.

Since all of you are going through this great shift, you can experience turbulent weather in your life.

All of the things that are no longer assisting you in this life are brought up, so you can clearly see them, and if you desire to do so, Now, you can let them go.

On a collective level, all of the shadows that were trying to keep your world on a lower timeline are exposing themselves, since the energies that are present in your world are bringing everything into the Light.

In the Light, nothing can ever stay hidden.

The Veil is being dissolved gradually as we speak, allowing you to perceive more of your multidimensional Self, also you start to remember all your Past Selves that are going to be crucial in finding forgiveness for one self.

You were always a multidimensional being, you simply forgot this truth about yourself ages ago, but now you are laying the groundwork for future generations that are going to build a new reality on the foundations that you set right now.

You are the forerunners of the new reality, where there is going to be total transparency on all levels.

The great reveals that are gradually unfolding are just the beginning, but it may take several decades for everyone to come clean, and to tie up all the loose ends, after which you can all move forward as a healed race.

With that we leave you Children of Light,
Be well in the light of the day,
A'ho Blessings.