Reintegration of Self within Self...

We greet you children of Light. You are all going through the greatest transformation that your world has ever seen.

You have never gotten to this point in your evolution; you are now exploring new ways of being, and new ways of seeing yourself as a human being.

You are Spirit, yet you have a physical body.

This fact was accepted by many of your traditions, and now as you are moving forward on your path, you will start to integrate more of who you are.

You are an infinite cosmic being that spans the multiverse, you have many different incarnations on many different worlds, since all of you are connected to all that exists in Existence itself.

Of course at this stage of your evolution the human mind, which was used to see and understand just one thing at a time, is unable to comprehend the magnitude of this reality, but as you are progressing on your journey as a species, you will be able to own more and more of this amazing cosmic being that you are.

We are very similar in nature, yet different in degree. We have advanced through this stage you are now in ages ago, thus we are here to share our wisdom on how you can navigate this shift that you are all going through.

Your Ego mind was used to navigate this reality based on pre-existing and known information, which fits in the box you call logic.

While you progress on your journey, you discover that not all things in the cosmos operate according to this logic, but rather everything moves in its own rhythm, governed by laws of a higher degree.

We will not go into detail on how these Seven Laws govern existence itself, but we will focus more on how you can best be intune with these laws, so you can better understand and navigate your reality.

So far, the way you navigate this reality was based upon information that you have gathered across your life, and this outside source information governed your perception of reality, also in part defining how you see yourself as a human being living on Earth.

As you advance on your journey, you are exposed to more information that challenges your beliefs regarding yourself and the world that you inhabit, this is due to the fact that you are opening up to a broader view of the reality that you reside in.

You are a multidimensional being, and you are just starting to understand what this could mean for you in a practical sense.

So far, you were only aware of your Earth life. You were born, then grown up, doing all the things that an Earth human would do, but now you are exposed to energies that challenge your views of physical reality.

The team that you are working with are here to guide you on your way, and from time to time they visit you, exposing you to new experiences and information that will guide you on your journey.

To make this process effortless, one must learn to let go of all expectations on who you are, how things should look and what all of this Earth game is all about.

All the necessary information is coded within your very being, for you have put it there yourself, so when the time comes, you can unpack it and use it on your Earth journey.

The more that you let go of all the expectations and labels that have defined your life so far, the easier your journey of self exploration will become.

Try to see and experience things for what they truly are, without any labels or judgment, and the mysteries of life will reveal themselves to you.

Find peace in each moment, and know that you are guided.

With that we leave you,
A'ho Blessings.
